ABOUT ME...

My name is Yente Weekers. I am an 18-year-old Software Development student at SintLucas in Eindhoven, the Netherlands. Currently, I am in my second year of this study out of a total of four years. For the upcoming year, I am excited to seek an internship, for a period of 20 weeks, from September 2024 to January 2025.

I'm passionate about coding, eager to learn, especially in becoming a full stack developer. It's not just about writing code; it's about problem-solving creatively and translating solutions into executable instructions. The challenge of researching, debugging, and optimizing performance keeps me hooked, fueling my passion for coding.
